DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 3, based on the specification and the drawings, there appears to be a single cutter in the device. However, claim 3 seems to add an additional cutter. For examination purposes, a cutter in line 6 of claim 3 will be considered the cutter of claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shapira (US Patent Number 5,913,859).

Shapira discloses various embodiments of a facial bone contouring device comprising a rasp including a rod, e.g. 47 and a cutter e.g. 38 and/or 59, provided with a plurality of grooves and a cutting blade, a powered surgical handpiece, e.g. 17, connected to the rasp, a saline solution feeding unit e.g. 50 and 51, a suction unit, e.g. 57, a bone fragment collector, e.g. 56, connected to the suction unit, wherein the rod has a cylindrical connector, e.g. 44, connected to an adaptor, e.g. 41, of the powered surgical tool. In an alternate interpretation, 29 can be considered the rod (claim 5), with 41 being the cylindrical connector and 44 being the adaptor. Regarding claim 4, in an additional alternate interpretation, 10, can be considered the rod (see figure 2) The device also comprises a external connection jack, e.g. at 68, and a cylindrical protector, e.g. 10, having a double tube structure (see figure 2).

With regard to the statement of intended use and other functional statements, they do not impose any structural limitations on the claims distinguishable over Shapira, which is capable of being used as claimed if one so desires to do so. In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). Furthermore, the law of anticipation does not require that the reference "teach" what the subject patent teaches, but rather it is only necessary that the claims under attack "read on" something in the reference. Kalman v. Kimberly Clark Corp., 218 USPQ 781 (CCPA 1983). Furthermore, the manner in which a device is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO 892 for art cited of interest.
